Make a Bequest

Your bequest can make a real difference

DAISI is a not-for-profit organisation that pride itself on going where the need is greatest. DAISI addresses the inequitable access to healthcare experienced by so many people in the South-Pacific.

Our volunteer specialist doctors and nurses form teams that work in collaboration with doctors and nurses in the South-Pacific with a real focus on teaching, and achieving shared and lasting goals.

Through repeated visits, continual assessment and monitoring and making the necessary changes, DAISI ensures lasting change.

When you leave a gift in your Will to DAISI you can be assured that your legacy will work for a healthier South-Pacific for many years to come.

How to make a bequest

Every gift in Will, no matter how big or small, helps Doctors Assisting In South-Pacific Islands (DAISI) achieve its goals and work towards a healthier South-Pacific.

The process is very simple with 4 simple steps:

Step 1: Speak to your family, loved ones and next of kin.

It is important that they be cared for first. We recommend letting your family, loved ones and next of kin know of your intention to that leave a gift for Doctors Assisting In South-Pacific Islands (DAISI).

Step 2: Decide what kind of gift to leave

There are three main ways to make a gift in your Will to Doctors Assisting In South-Pacific Islands (DAISI):

- A residual bequest is where you make a gift the residue (or remainder), of your estate once specific gifts and expenses have been taken care of.
- You can make a bequest for a specific amount by simply stating the dollar amount in your Will that you wish to leave to Doctors Assisting In South-Pacific Islands (DAISI).
- An asset bequest is where you make a gift of a specific asset, for example real estate, shares or bonds.

Step 3: get the help of a professional

Your Will is an important legal document and a solicitor can help ensure that your the wording is correct and represents your intentions correctly.

Step 4: Making your Will

Your Will must be in writing (typed, printed or handwritten) and include specific wording. Your solicitor will be able to assist you. Your Will must be signed and dated on every page. Your signature must be witnessed by two people who are not named as beneficiaries of your estate. These two witnesses must sign and print their own name on every page of your Will.

How to amend your Will

If you have already written your Will, the easiest way to make a gift to Doctors Assisting In South-Pacific Islands (DAISI) is to add a codicil – a short legal amendment – to your Will. This can be organised in person, over the phone or by email with your solicitor, followed by a visit to their office to sign the codicil.
