Our Chair's Report

I have great pleasure in presenting DAISI's first annual report on progress since DAISI was formed almost one year ago. It has been a busy year 19 volunteers, and three specialty trips in urology, oro maxillofacial surgery, gynaecology and colorectal surgery. We have seen a rapid growth of DAISI membership and alliances formed with existing charities, with the generosity and support of so many people quite inspiring. Our aim this year has been service delivery.

Specialist Visits

DAISI has become a key participant in educating doctors in the Solomon Islands with its main emphasis surgical training. This is due to the fact that most DAISI members are from a surgical background. I myself a urologist, have been able to visit Gizo hospital three times in the past two years to teach urology. Our Secretary, Colorectal surgeon Dr Gary McKay, has this year alone visited Gizo on two occasions and Honiara once to perform and teach surgery.

This year we have had had three speciality trips to Gizo Hospital with over 19 volunteers with very strong involvement from gynaecologist Dr David Knox, Oro-maxillofacial Dr Anne Collins, and a number of colorectal surgeons. We strongly encourage non-surgical doctors to participate, and (despite our name) even non doctors. The involvement of local Solomon Island trainees in this process is fundamental, with great success already in gynaecology and general surgery both at Honiara and Gizo hospital.

Peripheral Hospitals

DAISI hopes to strengthen support for many of the other peripheral hospitals in the Solomon Islands often doing it tough with limited staff and resources.

Endoscopy Training

Endoscopy training in urology, gynaecology and general surgery has been a major focus of DAISI this year, with cystoscopy, laparoscopy, gastroscopy and colonoscopy taught to trainees during recent visits to Gizo and Honiara. DAISI has joined forces with the Australia and New Zealand Gastroenterology International

Training Association (ANZGITA) with a shared focus on improving endoscopy Services in the Solomons.

Medical Students Rotations

DAISI has had a steady stream of medical students volunteering this year, and we continue to encourage this, as it not only provides a life changing experience for those volunteering, but provides much needed assistance where personnel on the ground are often limited. Our vice-chair, Gareth Iremonger, a medical student himself when joining DAISI, and Dr James Fink from Bond University have been instrumental in coordinating medical student electives.

Donations

The donation of a 40 foot shipping container of surgical equipment and the purchase of surgical gowns urgently needed at National Referral Hospital (NRH), was only possible due to the collaboration with and generosity of organisations such as MedEarth, Rotary club of Berrima District, Ramsay Health. We are developing policy to ensure the responsible donation of equipment that will be useful, and not just end up as landfill.

Membership

Membership is open to any doctor or medical student that has volunteered in the Solomon Islands and is committed to ongoing volunteering in the Solomons in keeping with the ethos of DAISI. Associate membership is available for non medical volunteers.

Future Direction

DAISI is currently collaborating with national Referral Hospital (NRH) to organized regular endoscopy and laparoscopic workshops, and an Australian electives program for surgical registrars in the Solomon Islands.

Shipping of Medical Supplies

Reclaiming and shipping medical and surgical supplies and equipment from Australia, to the Solomon Islands has been the other major objective this year. This must be done responsibly with particular concern for the environment.

This equipment, although fully functional, is donated to DAISI. Therefore the only cost involved for DAISI is in shipping the equipment and ensuring ongoing maintenance.

All equipment is confirmed by beneficiaries to be actually required, ensuring no waste. This equipment is then catalogued and packed appropriately to ensure that it is easily unpacked, stored and used in the receiving country.

This financial year, one 40 foot shipping container was sent to Nasiona Referral Hospital, Honiara, in the Solomon Islands, containing essential surgical supplies, medicines, and surgical equipment

The first 40 foot shipping sent to the Solomon Islands, where DAISI has focused on surgical education introducing laparoscopic surgery programme.
