TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR VOLUNTEERING WITH DAISI

Do you agree to the below DAISI terms and conditions for volunteering in the South-Pacific?: ? []YES []NO

Terms & Conditions for Volunteering & DAISI Membership

I confirm that the above entered information is accurate. As a DAISI volunteer, I understand that I will be paying my own way including flights, accommodation, and food during my visit to the South-Pacific. I am aware that medical services are limited, and that there is personal risk associated with volunteering in remote locations of the South-Pacific. I understand that it is each volunteer's responsibility to purchase travel insurance when purchasing flights to allow cover for medical evacuation if required. I understand that it is my responsibility to visit my GP prior to volunteering to obtain all necessary vaccination and anti-malarial prophylaxis advice prior to my trip. Since December 2019 proof of measles vaccination (Yellow card or doctor's letter) is required prior to entry to many Pacific Island countries. Since 2020 proof of COVID vaccination is required. I understand that attendance at formal briefing and debriefing sessions is compulsory at the start and end of volunteer trips. Whilst DAISI provides advice and logistical support whenever possible, I understand that I take personal responsibility for all risk associated with volunteering in the South Pacific and that in the event of serious injury or death DAISI will not be held responsible or liable in any way. I realise that DAISI is non political, with an emphasis on being supportive/collegiate towards its South Pacific neighbours and that while volunteering with DAISI great cultural and political sensitivity is required of its volunteers/members, and that I therefore must avoid making cultural or political comments of a critical or sensitive nature.
